The legendary turmeric plant is rich in antioxidants and has been written about extensively. It has a treasure trove of nutrients which are legendary. Curcumin is the main active ingredient in turmeric. It has powerful anti-inflammatory effects and is a very strong antioxidant. Curcumin by itself is not absorbed into the body very well, so we have added black pepper and long pepper to our extract which significantly enhances the absorption of curcumin. Studies have shown that curcumin helps improve brain functions and lowers the risks of brain diseases. Curcumin may help lower the risk of heart disease, and studies have shown that curcumin can reduce the growth of cancerous cells. There is also evidence that turmeric may prevent cancer from occurring. It also may be useful to battle depression and to prevent and treat Alzheimer's disease. Arthritic patients have responded very well to curcumin supplements.
